100 Top Coaches

IT'S HERE! Another new bowling season. Hopefully, you kept yourself in “game shape” during the summer. But if you didn’t... or if you’re still trying to take your game to the next level... we’re here to help.

We begin with what has become one of Bowlers Journal International's most anticipated initiatives: the unveiling of our “100 Top Coaches” list for 2013. Then turn the page, and you’ll find easy-to-implement, skill-enhancing, average-building tips from 10 of these coaches.

Through the years, our “Top Coaches” selection process has evolved from nomination-based to application-based to, now, a combination of the two processes. All told, 172 applications were received, which were forwarded to a panel with these selection parameters: 1. Include a mix of all coaching levels — from youth instructors to the sport’s elite coaches. 2. Try to get a good regional mix, so anyone looking for coaching help could find it with a simple Google search. 3. In order to make the list as meaningful as possible, add a small number of elite-level coaches with undeniable credentials who did not submit applications.

The stars that accompany each name indicate the number of times the person has been selected for the “Top Coaches” list. If the coach was added by the selection panel, an explanation line is included — some are USBC Coaching Gold-level coaches, while others have earned their reputations in other ways.

We know that many outstanding coaches — at all levels — are not included, because “100” is a finite number and the selection process, while fair, is certainly subjective. With that in mind, we urge all accomplished coaches to apply for the 2014 “Top Coaches” list. Application forms will be available on BowlersJournal.com early next year.
